Mr. Ramon Colorado
[REDACTED]

Dear Mr. Colorado:

As you know from our telephone conversation on December 23, 2010, I am general counsel to PETA and I am writing to inform you that with immediate effect you are not to return to PETA's office at 501 Front Street in Norfolk, or to visit any other PETA office location or event. I must further ask that you cease all communication with PETA and its representatives, including those people with whom you communicated previously, and that you refrain from any further defamatory statements about PETA and its representatives. Any further communication from or concerning you in relation to PETA should be directed solely to me.

I regret having to take these steps and you know that PETA appreciated your volunteer efforts prior to the events giving rise to this situation. However, your entirely inappropriate conduct over the intervening days since our telephone conversation quite reasonably has put PETA's representatives in fear for their wellbeing and for the security of PETA's premises. When we spoke on December 23, you assured me that you were satisfied that I would look into your questions about PETA's notification that your volunteer activities were no longer needed. You agreed to forego any further communication or action directed to or about PETA until receiving my response, which I clearly informed you and you acknowledged would not be until I returned to the office from the holidays during the week of January 3, 2011.

However, literally within minutes of our call you started engaging in entirely inappropriate behavior toward PETA and its representatives, including posting false and defamatory information on various Internet sites. Moreover, on Christmas Day you sent an intentionally harassing email to a PETA representative that included what any reasonable person would consider threats to stalk and/or harass that person and likely others connected with PETA.

Your actions have left PETA with no choice but to send you this letter and to inform you that the police have been contacted about your behavior. Given your purported law enforcement background, I am sure you understand very well why we must take these steps and any necessary legal action to protect the safety and security of PETA's staff, volunteers and property. I look forward to receiving your assurance at the email address, street address or telephone number on this letterhead that you will not harm, threaten or harass any PETA representative or damage any of PETA's property.

Very truly yours,
